EPISODES

I.

Chief Solano, White Heron and the Suisun Indian tribe—the people of the West Wind—live as they had from time immemorial in the lovely valley lying north of the Great Bay—the Indian Vale of Many Moons.

II.

The illustrious General Mariano Guadalupe Vallejo settles and sustains Alta California, founding the town of Sonoma. His wife Francisca Benicia and his children join him, and the romantic Mexican era flourishes.

III.

Sonoma turns to statehood and Count Haraszthy brings his knowledge of wines, his vines and his sons to the Valley. The daughters of Vallejo and the sons of Haraszthy wed, and the modern wine industry begins.
